

About Steven Wampler

A native of Virginia, Steven Wampler entered the US Army as a bandsman and later studied Music Education at the University of Connecticut where he earned a B.S. and M.M. in Music Education. After teaching high school band in Barre, Vermont; Plainfield, Connecticut; Fairfax County, Virginia; and Howard County, Maryland for 23 years, he now teaches elementary band at Elkridge Elementary School in Elkridge, Maryland. Steven is also the new music director of the respected and well-established Montgomery Village Community Band in Montgomery County, Maryland.

He has studied conducting with Larry Ratchiff, Dr. Dutch Cossaboom, Craif Kirchoff, Eugene Corporon, and Gary Green.